Raiders Rip Holy Cross 75-46

The Appomattox Raiders jumped to an early lead and coasted to a 75-46 victory over the Holy Cross Tigers in a Seminole District basketball game played at Appomattox.

The Raiders built a 20-11 lead in the first quarter and outscored the visitors 20-13 in the second period to take a 40-24 lead into the dressing rooms at the half. Carrett led Raiders at this point with 10 points, while Holy Cross' Bobby Layne scored eight points as Appomattox outscored the visitors 35-22 in the third quarter for a 67-46 lead. The reserves played the fourth quarter and some of them saw action in other parts of the game.

The Raiders hit about 40% from the floor as they hit 31 of 77 shots and the Tanks 33% on 15 of 58 shots. Appomattox made up for its inaccuracy by pulling down 52 rebounds to 35 for the Holy Cross. There was a large number of fouls committed as Appomattox had 33 and Holy Cross 15, but the Raiders hit 19 with 34 free throws to two for the visitors.

Rainbow Hale game honors with 21 points scoring on eight of 16 from the floor and five of six free throws and pulled in 14 rebounds. Closely on the heels of Hale was Carrett who had 20 points on eight of 17 from the floor and four of four from the foul line and 11 rebounds. Layne and Lewis Johnson each had eight and Sammy Waddell had seven for the Raiders.

Raiders Down Rustburg 48-41

The Appomattox Raiders beat the Rustburg Red Devils 48-41 last Friday night in a Seminole District basketball game played at Rustburg. The win gave the Raiders a 11-2 mark overall and made them 7-2 in the district.

It was a slow moving game as the Red Devils played for the good shot, but many times it did not pay off. The Raiders took a 13-11 lead as the first quarter ended when Ricky Garrett hit as the buzzer sounded. The Raiders added another two points to the lead as they outscored Rustburg 15-13 in the second quarter for a 28-24 halftime lead. Appomattox built their lead to 35-28 at the end of three quarters as only 11 points were scored by the two teams in that quarter.

Robinson Is Featured In Sports News

Larry Robinson, a sophomore at the University of Richmond, continues to excel in basketball, publicity, at his basketball ability. One of the latest remembers is from a January 15 issue of the Richmond Newsleader, written by Richard Pollard, News-Leader's Sports Writer.

Part of the article is reproduced below:

"A previous scouting report on Tennessee Tech pointed out that Larry Robinson scores well on the jumper going in off the baseline and that he responds well, future flows probably will make some new moves.

The Ole Miss Rebels learned on late that Robinson can shoot the jumper, too.

Coach Ray Mears's Vols (yesterday off after Monday night's 73-70 overtime win over the Rebels) have a lot of work ahead. Now they're preparing for a tough week ending Saturday night and Florida Monday night.

Robinson, played at Farmer College two years under Marty Morrison — now Mears' chief assistant — coach the scoring he played in UT's early games. Most of his points came by rebounding and jumping in close or laying or off the fastbreak.

Bobby — he's a junior from Appomattox, Va., not four (!) —

Larry averaged 19 points and 10 rebounds per game last year at Ferrum, Va. Morris said he could have scored more but "a team had five men with double-figure averages.

"Bobby is a better player this year," Morris pointed out. "He wasn't a big scorer in junior college basketball because he isn't selfish. He's a fine defensive player — one who takes pride in defense because of his quickness. Those things don't show up in the statistics."

Morris thinks Larry is playing inspired basketball at this point because he's determined to prove he's a major college athlete.

Robinson already has become popular with Va'lans. He hustles and plays with enthusiasm.

"He was popular at Ferrum Junior College, too," said Morris. Ninety per cent of the students were white but they elected Larry 'Mr. Ferrum.' The faculty selected him for the Carlton Award, which goes to the student who displays outstanding citizenship.

"Larry is a student first, then a basketball player," Morris added. "He is one of 16 children and an education is important to him. Believe me, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Robinson — his parents — are proud of Larry."

Maybe Mears had better keep Morris in touch with the Robinson family. Larry has two younger basketball - playing brothers. Leon, 16, is a high school junior.

"Leon is about my height (6-7)," said Larry. "He's been playing pretty well, I hear."

Robinson is getting some special tutoring on the basketball court, Jimmy England, the Vol's top scorer a year ago and an excellent one-on-one player, has been giving a few lessons in moves and jump-shooting. Larry thinks England's suggestions are beginning to help.

'New Games' Aid Teaching

Physical education is anything but dull if one is to judge both teachers and pupils enjoying the instruction of Muriel Lackey (above, working with eight local youngsters as part of a teachers' workshop Monday at Appomattox Primary School. Mr. Lackey is supervisor of physical education, State Dept. of Education. Third and fourth grade pupils and teachers were involved in the morning class; 1st and 2nd grade teachers in the afternoon. In the foreground are David Peyton and John Randall Caldwell. Behind them, Debbie Lawson, Jayne Doss Hubert Allen, Kimberly Wade and Andrew Fratrick. For other boys and girls Monday and Tuesday were school holidays as teachers completed book work marking the end of the semester.
